

DESCRIPTION

The latest generation of exercise bikes comes to your home. The Xiaomi Yesoul Professional V1 semi-professional indoor exercise bike comes to the fitness world and your home to turn everything upside down.

Award-winning design

The Xiaomi Yesoul Professional V1 exercise bike and its design are incredible. Its sober yet modern lines and style have won the German Red Dot Design Award 2017 and the China Good Design Gold Award 2017.

Magnetic resistance

This bike ditches the brake pad system and introduces a revolutionary magnetic resistor system. Never before has your home had the performance and quality of a gym.

Ultra-quiet

Its complex belt drive system not only greatly enhances the user experience, but also makes this exercise bike an extremely quiet option.

Armrest and screen holder

The Xiaomi Yesoul Professional V1 incorporates different armrests so you can position yourself in the most comfortable way depending on the activity you are doing. Adapt the position depending on whether you are pedaling downhill, uphill, standing or sitting.

Own App

Synchronize your training data and enjoy exclusive content with the Yesoul App. Choose from a huge variety of training sessions and keep track of all of them in order to achieve your goals. In addition, you will be able to monitor all the data generated during your workouts, such as heart rate and calories burned.

Suitable for professional cyclists

The hybrid-model pedal incorporated in the indoor Yesoul V1 bike will revolutionize your cycling sessions. Get ready to boast your riding experience thanks to the integration of automatic pedals, which will provide you with the highest efficiency and comfort when pedaling. In addition, you will benefit from a greater stability and a "round" pedaling that will increase your performance and reduce the risk of injury. This innovative hybrid pedal also includes adaptable toe-clips to ensure an optimal fixation. Enjoy from excellent control and the highest power transfer on every ride. Now you can achieve your goals without leaving home!
