Show and protect your iPhone X and iPhone Xs

The KSIX Aluminum Bumper is designed to protect the edges and corners of your iPhone X or iPhone Xs against scratches and bumps, while showing its elegant original design. Ultra Slim and light-weight

The Bumper is made of anodized aluminum, a resistant and light-weight material that will keep your smartphone thin and light-weight. Express your style choosing the color that identifies you the most: gray, black and blue or black and red.

Protect with style The Aluminum Bumper protrudes a few millimeters to protect the smartphone's front and back, and ensures a correct protection against scratches and bumps.

Because we know the importance about keeping nice memories, the Bumper includes a tempered glass protector for the back rear camera.
