

DESCRIPTION

The MagArm arm support compatible with MagSafe is the ideal accessory for those who engage in sports or physical activities, ensuring convenience, comfort, and constant access to your smartphone. Perfect for tracking apps, answering calls, or monitoring performance during workouts, it provides maximum stability even during the most intense movements.

Thanks to the integrated powerful N52 magnet, the MagArm ensures a secure attachment to MagSafe-compatible smartphones. For devices that don't have this technology, an included metal ring with 3M adhesive makes it easy to adapt any phone to the holder.

The rotating magnetic base allows for 360° orientation, providing the ability to choose the most comfortable angle for any use, whether during physical activity or in daily life.

The adjustable strap fits arms with circumferences ranging from 22 to 47cm, ensuring a stable and comfortable fit. Made with non-slip materials and an ergonomic design, the MagArm ensures comfort and safety for extended workout sessions.
